Issue 1 February 2004

Welcome back to another school library year which is already shaping up to be brighter and busier than ever before. What's going to be happening @ your library in 2004?

I expect most of you would have received your information packs by now but if you missed the campaign launch/PD session run by Rebecca Moore and hosted by Newman College earlier this week here are a few of the details. The idea for the campaign originated in America and was trialled so successfully by South Australia last year that WA decided to embrace the idea in 2004.

This is a statewide campaign across all library sectors with the following objectives:

To increase awareness and support for libraries by communicating clearly and strongly why libraries are both unique and valuable.

To update the image of libraries and library staff for the 21st century, sustaining and strengthening their relevance.

The project incorporates 7 mini campaigns over the 12 month period and commenced in January on the theme of holiday fun@ your library which of course is also relevant in April, July, October and December school holidays.

| March    | Just ask @ your library   |
| May      | Your future @ your library                                      |
| July     | Treasures @ your library  |
| August   | Doing business @ your library                                   |
| October  | Life is learning @ your library                                 |
| November | Thankyou Day @ your library (proposed for Thursday 18 November) |

Look out for ads in the press and on TV and get involved as much or as little as you wish.

With every best wish for the year ahead.

The Editor.
