The Office 2007 eLearning and Introductory Computer Training

Website located at: <http://www.learnoffice.net.au>.

Word 2007, Excel 2007, PowerPoint 2007, Outlook 2007 and Windows Vista.

Access 2007 will be available shortly.

Within these modules, there are 89 separate training activities and 52 testing activities (or lessons), covering almost 5,000 training and testing steps. The Introductory Computer Training section will allow any teachers or students not familiar with computer technology to learn introductory concepts.

Microsoft will be releasing its new Operating system titled Windows 7 in October and we will then have available online training for this product as well.

A 15% discount is offered to AISWA Libraries members with an additional 5% discount if both databases are purchased.
